In your second summer, you’ll continue legal training, relationship building and participation in diversity and inclusion efforts as a summer associate. Scholars receive the summer associate salary during the program, plus a $25,000 scholarship.

• Pro Bono Scholars Program: Work in the public interest and in private practice. Combine your passion for public interest issues with private practice across two summers. The first summer is entirely focused on pro bono work. During your time with the firm and the public interest organization, you’ll receive dedicated pro bono trainings and projects. The Boston, Washington, DC, Los Angeles, New York City, and San Francisco offices will each award one second-year law student $20,000 and a salaried position. The scholarship will be paid in two installments: $10,000 during the second-year summer and another $10,000 payable when the student returns to Arent Fox as an associate after graduation. This program is for law students who are members of a historically underrepresented group in the legal profession.

The AF Fellows program is open to associates in their 5th year of practice and above, as well as junior partners and counsel. Of the 30 AF Fellows that have been selected since the program was launched, 75% are women, people of color and LGBTQ+.

- Traditional 2L Summer Program: The Boston, Washington, DC, Los Angeles, New York City, and San Francisco offices hire 2L’s based on need.

- LCLD Fellow and Pathfinder: A key mission and component of the Leadership Council on Legal Diversity (LCLD) organization is its fellows program—a ongoing intensive mentoring and business development program geared at pairing high potential diverse law firm attorneys with similar high potential general counsel at major corporations. Moreover, after the completion of the fellowship year, fellows remain active alumni with continued access to the chief legal officers and law firm chairs and managing partners in the program. We select one fellow per year, providing a substantial pipeline initiative for the Firm. 2020 was our seventh year participating in this initiative. We’ve also expanded to participate in the LCLD Pathfinder Program, a new opportunity targeting 3-5th year associates, designed for diverse, high potential, early career attorneys. The goal of the Pathfinder Program is to provide practical tools for developing and leveraging professional networks through relationship building skills, foundational leadership skills and an understanding of career development strategies applicable to both in-house and law firm practice.

- LCLD 1L Scholar Program: 1L LCLD Scholars participate in a summer internship in house at a member organization and attend a summit designed exclusively for 1L LCLD Scholars.

- Diversity Scholar In-House Week: A diversity scholar at the firm is placed in-house at a firm client for a week of shadowing.
• LCLD 1L Scholar Program: We participate in the Leadership Council on Legal Diversity (LCLD) 1L Scholars Program, a program designed to strengthen the diversity of the legal pipeline by providing 1L summer association positions to a diverse pool of talented first-year law students. The LCLD Scholars program provides 1L students with a paid summer associate position and the opportunity to attend the LCLD Summit with LCLD scholars from around the country.

• Traditional 2L Summer Program: Each recruiting season, the firm conducts interviews with law students on many law school campuses, and also routinely considers applications from exceptional students attending schools at which we do not conduct campus interviews.

• Sponsors for Educational Opportunity: We participate in the Sponsors for Educational Opportunity (SEO) Career program, which is the nation's premiere summer internship program for talented underrepresented students.

• Law in Tech Diversity Collaborative: This is a ten-week program open to first-year law students, split with 5 weeks at the in-house legal department of a tech company within the LiTD Collaborative, learning about one or more substantive areas of in-house practice and getting exposure to meaningful work; and 5-6 weeks as a summer associate with a law firm partnering with that tech company.

A “first of its kind” among law firms, the program subsidizes up to $2,500 to fund LSAT preparatory courses and law school application expenses for diverse, academically gifted students who want to attend law school, and provides a $3,500 stipend once admitted to law school to cover books and other expenses. Led by Sidley lawyers, S4 topics include the American legal system, 1L curriculum and best practices for success in the first year of law school.

Sidley Diversity & Inclusion Scholarship: Annually, the firm awards a designated number of scholarships, each totaling US $ 25,000, to a select number of rising 2Ls who accept an offer to join Sidley’s summer associate program. The scholarship is intended to help defray the costs of the recipients’ legal education. Law students who join the firm’s summer program and who identify as racially/ethnically diverse, LGBTQ+, and/or as a person with a disability may apply for the scholarship. The firm selects recipients from among the eligible applicants based on academic excellence, leadership skills, and a demonstrated commitment to diversity and inclusion.

1L Diversity Mentorship Program: Launched in 2010, Sidley’s 1L annual Diversity Mentorship Program supports the diversification of the legal profession overall, and large law firms in particular. The 10-week summer program provides current 1L diverse law students — who are employed elsewhere during the summer in Boston, Chicago, Dallas, Houston, Los Angeles, New York, Palo Alto, San Francisco, or Washington, D.C., with opportunities to network with Sidley lawyers, legal departments, and government agencies. Students receive Sidley lawyer-mentors throughout the program and attend firm networking receptions, resume review sessions, mock interview workshops, and our annual Diversity Dialogues program.

Washington, D.C. 1L Diversity Fellowship: Sidley’s Washington, D.C. office offers a 1L summer fellowship opportunity for up to two first-year law students. The Project’s goal is to provide highly qualified law students from socioeconomic, ethnic, and cultural backgrounds underrepresented in the legal profession with summer judicial internships in the chambers of federal and state appellate judges, federal district judges, and federal bankruptcy and magistrate judges. An initial screening of application documents will identify qualified candidates. Applicants who clear this round will be interviewed via telephone by attorneys for a second-round of evaluation. The final round consists of being referred to a judge who will conduct their own interview, either in person or virtually. Each participating judge will make a final hiring decision. Applicants who are hired must commit to two mandatory training workshops and complete a legal writing assignment for the purpose of helping to prepare them for the internship.

Candidates must be available to work full-time as an unpaid intern for a minimum of eight weeks.
